

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An anti-corrosion shower head used in a dry etching tool comprises an aluminum base and a ceramic plate embedded in the aluminum base, wherein the ceramic plate has a number of gas holes to spray the etching gas. An 5 oxalic acid is used for electroplating the shower head, and also the aluminum part on the rear side of the ceramic plate or engineering polymer plate is hollowed.

* * * * *